

Life seems to be full of trials of this type which test our inner strength, and more importantly, our devotion and love for one another. "True Love" is boundless and immeasurable and overcomes all forms of adversity.

If it is genuine, it will grow stronger with each assault upon its existence. Our love has been assaulted many times and I am convinced that it is true. Because the feeling which thinks of you becomes stronger as it is with you.

The flame that was sparked the instant our eyes met, the flame that has not been extinguished by all the miles and all the years.

My darling husband, words cannot begin to express what I feel inside. I have loved you since the day we met. The love I feel for you is so strong that not even I can understand it. I want you next to me every day, every second of the day. I never want to forget to say how much I love and adore you. You are my love, my life, my air, my best friend. I love you my darling husband. And nothing will ever take you away from me again. Your wife forever.
